FOREWORD

Isn't it strange how the unyielding, new pages of the 1967 Torch are like my worst and best time in high school—my freshman year. A new book is about to be read; it has never known its owner's treatment and never felt his lively interest. In the same way was my ninth-grade soul an unopened book, inexperienced, fresh-off-the press of the more pliable years. I did not really know myself. But hard as that time was, I, like my classmates, gradually absorbed the fundamentals of school life. I became more confident and relaxed. I learned to accept responsibilities and I developed my own opinion, which is now cherished by me if by no one else.

Most important, perhaps, through four years of school I had opened my mind's gates and there planted great beds of knowledge and understanding. When in my senior year these seedlings finally began to grow, I was surprised and delighted. Growing with them I found were class spirit and my conflicting desires to leave this place and yet to stay. After all, it was a very good year. The prom, that tragic Thanksgiving game, the U.N. trip and skipping afternoon homeroom period are all highlights that will always belong only to my last ten months at school.

But now, at the end of that year, I think I have become more akin to the way this Torch will be after a few years. I have become salty and seasoned, more used to misuse and yet more used to human warmth and kindness. I am filled with memories from cover to cover. This is where the analogy must stop though. I, unlike my yearbook, have a future which will always owe some of its stability to my high school education.

DEDICATION

In dedicating the 1967 Torch we feel that it is important to express our thanks to someone who has been a great help to the Senior Class and to the entire school.

The faculty member chosen this year has been our class advisor since our sophomore year and has been teaching in the school for eleven years. His deep concern for A.B.R.H.S. and its students has been displayed by his willingness to help both the individual student and the entire class. We, the Class of 1967, would like to express our gratitude and sincere thanks to you, Mr. Battit, by dedicating the 1967 Torch to you in commemoration of four "very good years".

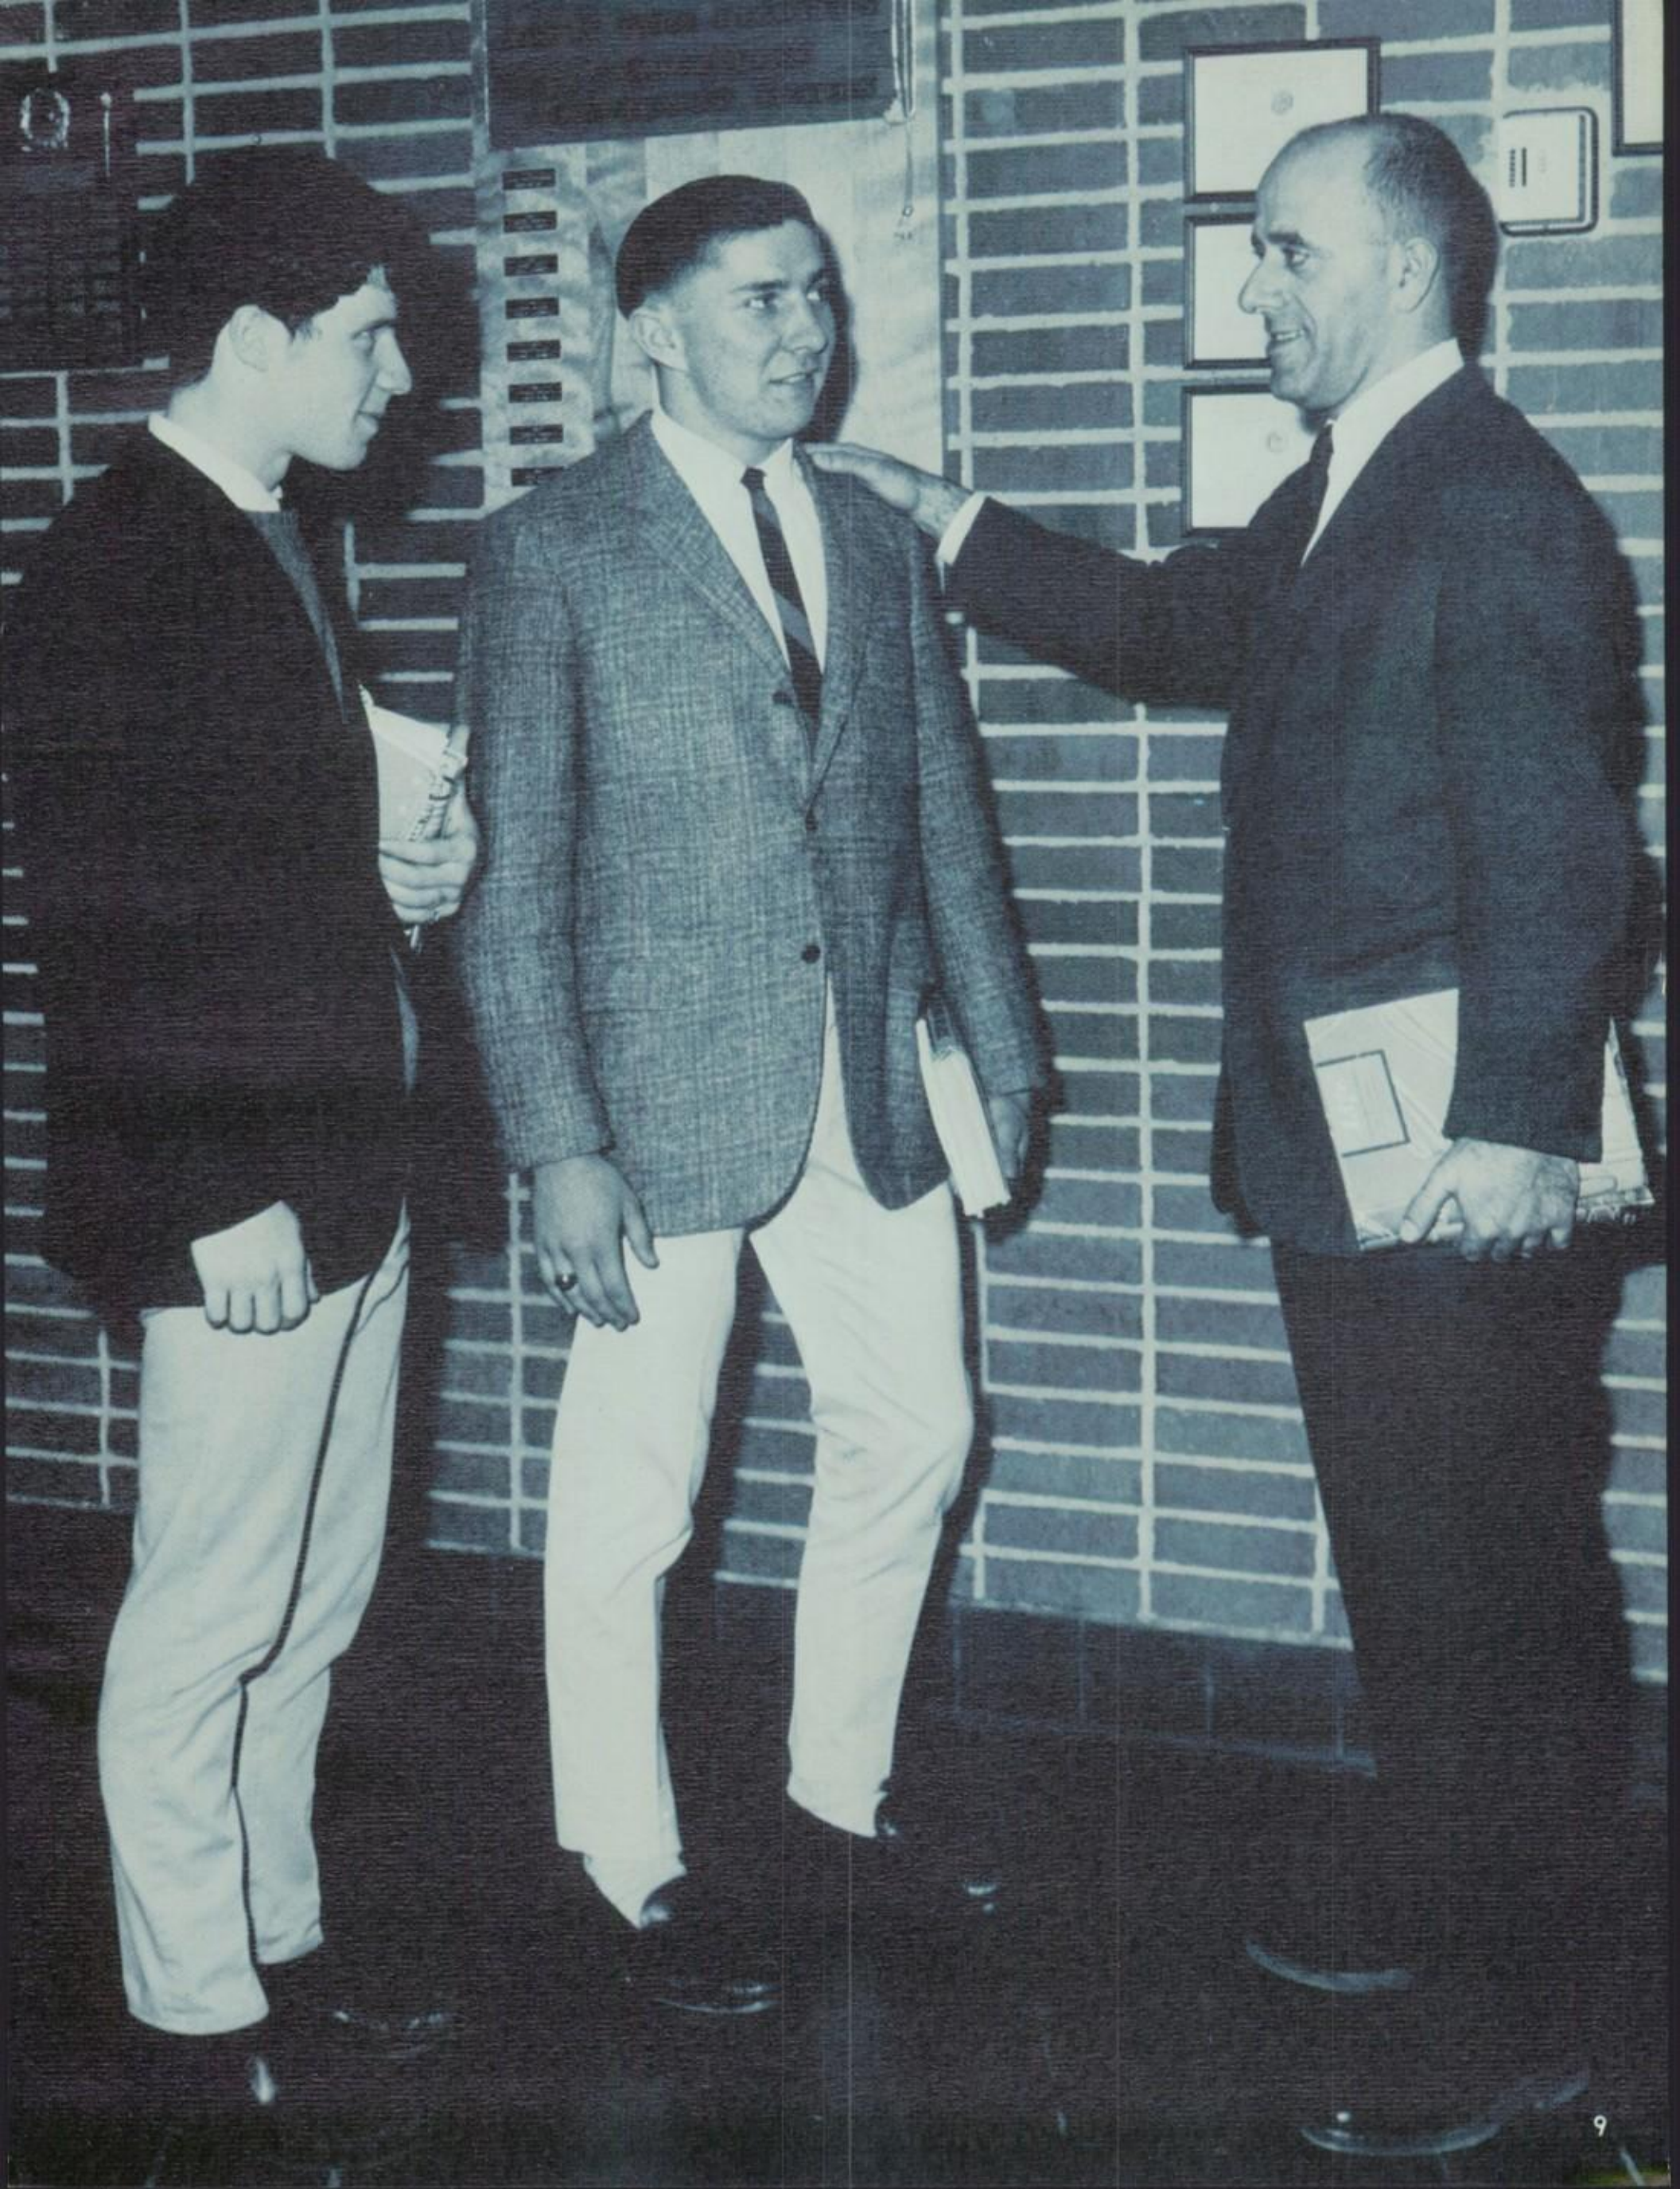
IT WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR

for the administration and faculty. Smaller classes made the classroom atmosphere more relaxed and the teachers were able to cover more material. Another bright spot in the faculty's year was their basketball victory over the varsity boys. Having done their best to produce well-rounded students academically, culturally, and physcially, we feel that we owe them a debt of gratitude.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY



MASTERMINDS OF SCHOOL POLICY

Mr. O'Connell and the school committee finally saw the completion and first use of two new schools. Having new elementary and junior high schools has provided extra room in the high school and reduced the size of classes.

Affected by rising food costs, the committee also decided that the price of school lunches must be raised to 30 cents. The school committee has once more done its usual fine job.

THE DYNAMIC DUO

The title of this Yearbook is "The Torch". It is a symbol of "learning". Its significance lies in the fact that a primary purpose of education, and a basic aim of every teacher, is to illuminate the student's minds with knowledge and to kindle in them a desire for more education. Thus, I sincerely hope that we have performed this for the Class of 1967.

"May I have your attention please! Will the following students please report to the main office!"

The lilting voice of Mrs. Ott is always welcome at any time of the school day. She can be counted on to liven up seventh period classes with the detention list or special announcements.

We give our sincere thanks to Mrs. Ott and the other dedicated members of the office staff for their on-the-spot coverage of school events, efficient secretarial work, and a thousand other necessary duties.

This is the basic theme that our history department has adopted. To emphasize this it is now mandatory for each student to take four years of history. This year a history reading room was opened as a source of supplementary material. MODERN GEOMETRY

The problem: to develop the students ability to apply learned mathematical techniques.

Statements:

1. Students must have exercise material.
2. Working with numerical problems is beneficial.
3. The math department is well-organized.

Reasons:

1. Comprehension of mathematical principles depends on repetition.
2. It helps the student develop deductive reasoning.
3. Miss Keefe is head of the department.

These are to develop in each student an appreciation and understanding of scientific thinking, to bring out individual thought patterns, to teach the student how to observe the world around him, and finally, through this last ideal, to help the student understand himself through the living world.

VAN GOGH A GO GO

This was a good year for Miss Vattes and her students. Due to smaller classes, a wider variety of courses was offered such as painting with oils and water colors, using plaster, and painting on glass.

Activities this year centered around the production of Christmas ornaments and decorations. Stained glass windows and a ceramic manger scene were created by the students.

IN CAMELOT

This year the music department transported us back several hundred years to "the days of old when knights were bold" with their production of Lerner and Loewe's Camelot. Although this was perhaps the most spectacular project of the department, it was by no means the only one. For some students, the only real time to let themselves go was the talent night when the auditorium was filled with laughing and singing. Some of the more ambitious students were accepted for the Northeastern District and all-state concerts.

A YEAR OF FUN AND GAMES

All year long the background noise of "Fold the pinnies neatly!" and "My partner took it home" echoed throughout the girls' locker room. Despite these protests, Miss Stearns has helped the students in her classes develop their natural athletic abilities and learn the fundamentals of field hockey, volleyball, softball, basketball, and other games. Mr. Boylen has made fine athletes out of many of the boys in his classes. Seasonal sports highlighted the year and offered the students a variety of activities.

IT WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR

for the underclassmen. The Freshmen enjoyed their first year of high school. The Sophomores led the school in spirit and enthusiasm. The Juniors received their class rings and look forward to becoming Seniors next year.

UNDERCLASSMEN

JUNIORS

This is a class that's full of originality and spirit. You can always count on the class of '68 to support school events and come up with new ideas for earning money. Influenced by this age of automation, the Juniors sponsored a very successful Computer Dance during the fall. They look back on '66 and '67 with happiness and satisfaction, and they look toward '68 with their usual enthusiasm.

Familiar Scenes

IT WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR

for sports. The memories of the tense excitement, wild enthusiasm, and deafening cheers at a basketball or football game are ones that will remain with the departing seniors forever. Our teams were on a winning streak this year, which greatly pleased their faithful student fans. We are looking forward to equally exciting seasons next year.

SPORTS

Bobby Beaudoin tries for a touchdown.

Bob Allred is tackled by his opponent.

Although our team was only in its second year of varsity football, it had many victories and close games this season. Few people realize the work that goes on before each game. Every day, no matter what the weather, the boys practiced for at least two hours and this year the practice proved worthwhile. At the end of the year the Colonial Football team's record was 3 wins, 6 losses, an admirable record for a team in its second year.

SOCCER 1966

The boys practiced hard and met each opposing team with enthusiasm and hope. Mr. Boylen took over the job of coaching the Soccer team and helped many inexperienced boys to become valuable players. With this year of hard work behind them next year should be a much better year.

BOYS VARSITY BASKETBALL THE CHAMPS

The way that Tom King and Rich MacLeod played seemed like pure magic to the Acton-Boxborough fans. The brilliant playing of this pair of juniors and the other skillful members of the Colonial team, captained by Gary Sweatt, led the boys to a near-perfect season with only one loss. For the first time ever our basketball team travelled to the Tech Tourney. This was not just a good year for our team—it was the best year.

GIRLS J.V.'S

There seemed to be an even greater interest in girls' basketball this year than ever before. The result was that not only was an excellent varsity team selected but there was also a very good J.V. team.

Through hard work and learning from the varsity example, the J.V.'s won most of their games.

WE WANT A BASKET!

The boys' junior varsity basketball team promises to produce some excellent players for next year's varsity squad. The team played some excellent games this year which proved to be nearly as interesting as the varsity contests. Coach McNulty and the boys worked hard together and the proof of it was their fine record.

Is it a basket?

Al Remos scores a basket.

Standing: Chris Harding, Lori Kangas, Bob Wheeler, Kenny Whitcomb, Roy Wasdyke, Don Waite, Phil Osterhoudt, Mr. Gifford.

REGIONAL HIGH RUNNERS

This was the second year of indoor track at ABRHS and the team made progress. Coach Gifford encouraged the boys to work on sprinting because this was the team's weakest point. Most other categories especially pole-vaulting found the Colonial team well-prepared.

Puzzling over the results of the meet.

With a burst of speed, Bob Beaudoin charges ahead.

AT THE HEAD OF THE PARADE

Along with the band, the color guard, majorettes, and drill team helped to make the half-time entertainment at our football games exciting and worth watching. These students are school-spirit personified when they march down the field displaying the school colors and flag.

Color Guard: Steve Howard, Chris Jewitt, Charlie Beddoe, Scott Hebert, Geoff Larkin. Kneeling: George LeGault.

Majorettes: Julie Charbonneau, Leslie O'Connell, Ginny Jones, Sue Balmat, Debbie Guenard.

GO, TEAM, GO! FIGHT, TEAM, FIGHT! WIN, TEAM WIN!

The husky voices of our peppy cheerleaders were heard bellowing through the halls till all hours after school. Miraculously, they did not become hoarse by game time, and as a result of their spirit, the other team usually went home defeated.

This year the cheerleaders have organized two teams instead of one, a varsity and a junior varsity squad. Mrs. Stonkus has again supervised the girls well, and they have come out with many fine cheers.

A serious moment in the cheering of Leslie Bernard

Push 'em back! Push 'em back! Way back!

The cheerleaders spreading enthusiasm and spirit with one of their excellent cheers.

IT WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR

for school activities. In the life of every student there is a place for academic subjects and one for some pet hobby or interest. The school understands this and provides three periods weekly for the pursuit of these extracurricular activities. The great variety of clubs attracted many students and gave them an opportunity to learn and have some fun at the same time.

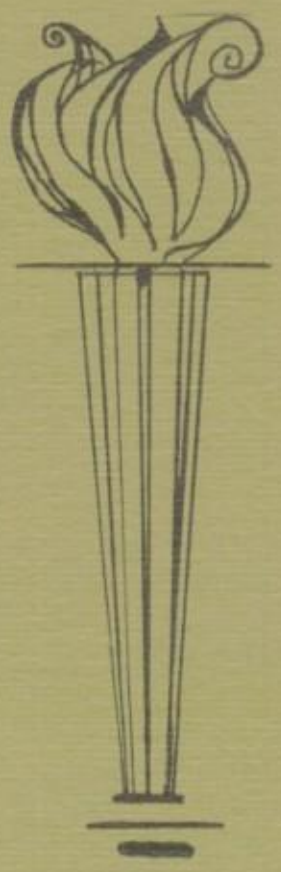
NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY



The National Honor Society is a very selective organization made up of the top students from all over the United States. Every spring a committee of faculty members carefully screens the eligible students from our high school. The requirements are hard to meet, for a student must qualify in three areas: scholarship, leadership, and character. A veto from one member of the selection committee means complete rejection. Despite these rigorous demands, quite a few students, juniors as well as seniors were inducted this year. The fact that ABRHS has a fairly large chapter speaks well for the academic calibre of our school.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

This has been one of the most exciting years yet for our American Field Service Club. Tony Calderon, our student from Bolivia, made many friends. Tony must have spoken enthusiastically about the organization because a record number of students applied to go abroad under the AFS program. Competition was keen, but after a series of interviews the application of David Miner was sent to New York. By mid January Dave had left to spend the year in South Africa.

The AFS Club of this past year was well organized due mainly to the hard work of President Claudia Schwarm. Slides, movies, discussions and lectures, plus one AFS assembly for all juniors and seniors, were held during the year.

Officers: Mr. Grey, Advisor; David Miner, Treasurer; Claudia Schwarm, President; Cynthia Sarno, Vice-President; Pamela Loomis, Secretary; Tony Calderon, AFS Student.

Mr. Calderon, Tony, Mrs. Calderon, the Ambassador to Bolivia and his wife.

TONY CALDERON

Antonio Calderon-Lopez has spent most of his life in the city of LaPaz, Bolivia, but he has always wanted to live in the country. When Tony found out that Boxborough was to be his American home he was delighted.

For the 1966-67 academic year Tony, joined the Roger Morse Family. Tony enjoyed all aspects of his senior year in America and we certainly enjoyed him.

REPRESENTATION OF THE STUDENTS

Officers: David Miner, Corresponding Secretary; Cynthia Sarno, Secretary; Lester Allen, Treasurer; Linda Nyquist, President; Robert Dee, Vice-President.

Representatives from each class gathered to discuss school rules, plan movies and other events. The good times that students had at these extra activities and sports events were due mainly to the hard work of the Student Council. As the scope of school activities broadens, the responsibilities of these students increase.

Colonial Crier

PRO BONO PUBLICO ABAHS

Although it was quite a while before the first issue of the Colonial Crier came out, it was well worth the wait. A good paper takes time and effort. We must give credit to the staff and its advisor, Miss Quint, for an imaginative and interesting paper.

TORCH 1967

Student interest in the Torch runs very high at ABRHS and there is a place for almost everyone on one of the three staffs. The business staff makes use of those who are in the business course or almost anyone who can type. This gives valuable experience to future secretaries and bookkeepers.

The literary staff has the job of writing all copy in an interesting and varied way. The staff must also see that the theme of the yearbook is presented clearly and connects the many different sections. Staff members are also responsible for writing the senior profiles.

Arranging page layouts, supervising the photographing of school groups, and making decisions on design and color are the main jobs of the art staff. The many talented art students at ABRHS handle the responsibilities well and welcome the opportunity to display their abilities.

At the head of this vast operation is the editor-in-chief. She correlates the work of the departments so that an accurate account of the year will be presented.

FOR THE SPORTS MINDED BOY AND GIRL

Boys are usually especially proficient at gymnastics. Despite the many sports offered at ABRHS, the boys are still enthusiastic about the Intramurals Club. Once a week members meet in the gym to practice tumbling, basketball, baseball, football, volleyball, and soccer.

There are some people who are very athletic and some who never will be. The Girls Intramurals Club gives the athletic girls an extra period a week for fun and exercise beyond the usual workout in gym class.

Activities this year included field hockey, tennis, basketball, tumbling, volleyball, and softball.

Seated: Lynn Lounsbury, Denise Cobly, Janet Telford, Chris Wetherbee, Rhonda Morse, Jane Mulvany, Nancy Kashuba, Judy McPhee.

DRIVER TRAINING

Drivers Education classes at the Acton-Boxborough Regional High School are conducted during X-periods by Mr. Stetson who has taught this course for many years. This is a very popular course both in the eyes of the students and the parents because it not only teaches safety laws and other required knowledge, but also gives the student an idea of how the automobile functions. Drivers Education has helped many students become careful drivers.

SEWING FINE SEAMS

In one extra period a week, Miss Boyle can teach the more advanced and interested girls the arts of tailoring, fitting, and intricate sewing. Many students who are beyond the basics of sewing taught in the regular Home Economics classes benefit from this extra instruction. At the end of the year the girls present a fashion show to display their projects.

Miss Boyle helps Lynn Harrell with a sewing problem.

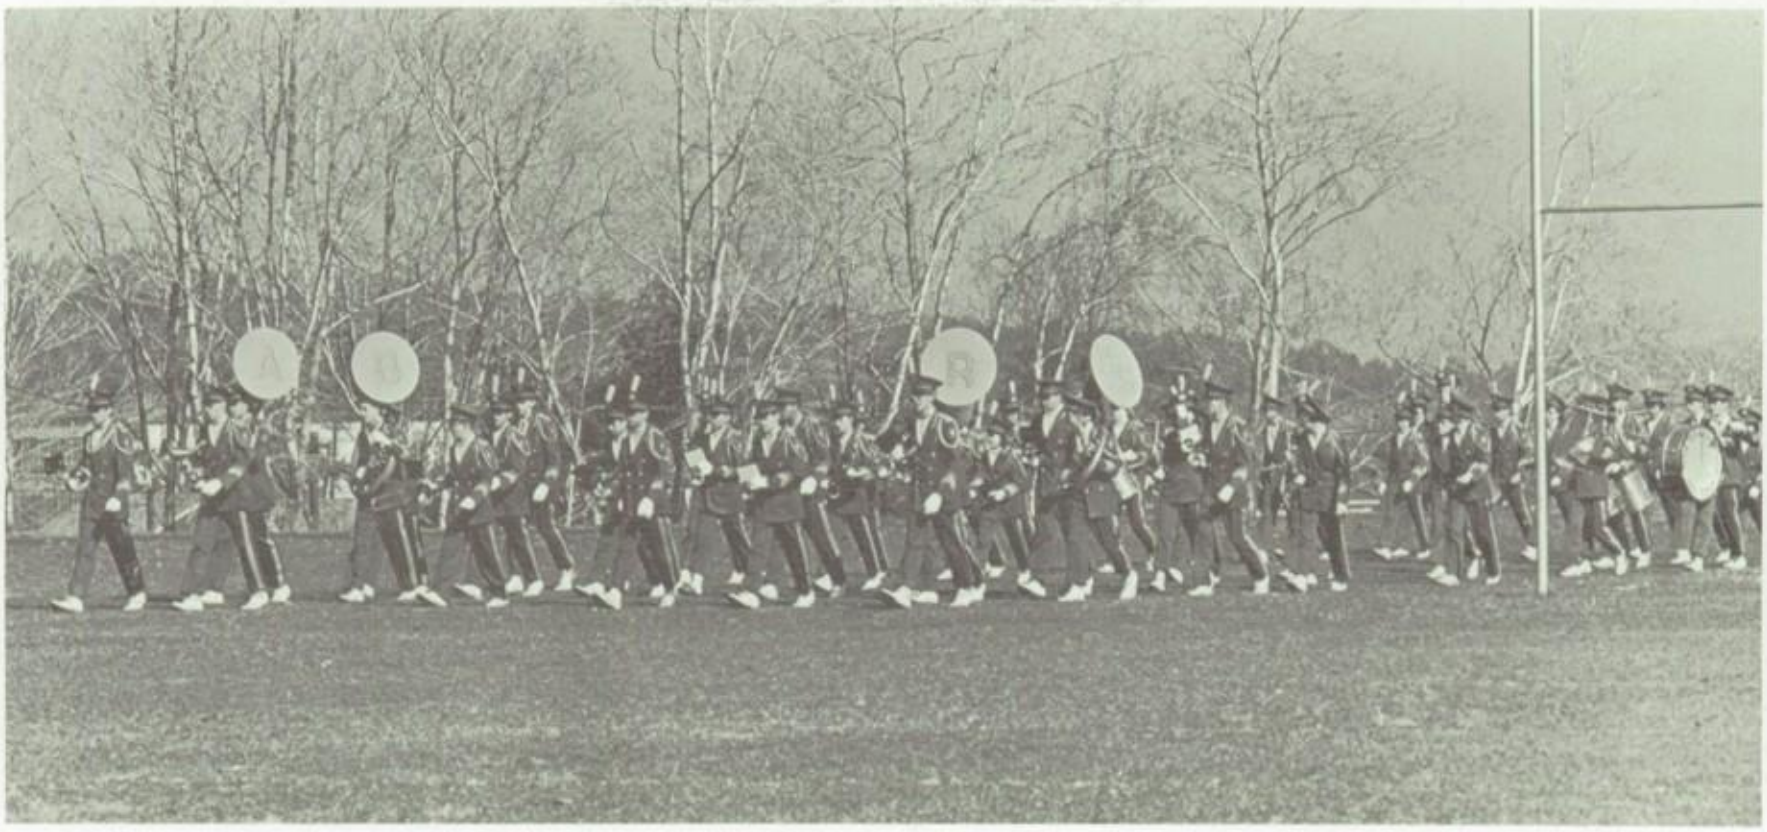
The Acton Boxborough Regional High School Band during its winter Band Concert.

A LITTLE LESS THAN SEVENTY-SIX TROMBONES, BUT . . .

Without a band what would a football game be? How would we ever sing the school song or be moved by the sight of such school spirit? Haven't you ever wanted to march on the field and sit with the band during a football game? It's not all fun and clean blue uniforms, though—all those practices after school in the cold and the rain and the mud!

When the football season is over, the band goes back to concert music and practicing for their regular winter programs. Although the students will most remember the band for its sports enthusiasm, the parents will most likely recall the band's concerts.

The sound of music filled the auditorium at the band concert.



The Marching Band provided much color and spirit at our football games.

CHORUS

Senior High Chorus has always been one of the most popular activities at ABRHS and this year was no exception. The familiar strains of Handel's "Messiah" filled the auditorium at Christmas time, and in the spring "Camelot" was produced.

The Special Choir, made up of the most talented chorus members, worked with more difficult music.

THINK SNOW!

There are a lot of ski-enthusiasts in this area which was shown by the vast membership at our ski club. They took trips to local slopes such as Nashoba, and they highlighted the year when they went North to Okemo and Sunapee. The Ski Club also sponsored excellent ski movies for the enjoyment of all.

THE COLONIAL HAMS

No Ham on the band beats Colonial Brand. All Acton-Boxborough teenage ham-radio operators have an opportunity to join the Radio-Electronics Club at ABRHS. The boys broadcast from the school station KIROW each Monday X-period with the hope of getting some real DX's (long distance contacts). Would-be hams practice the code and technical knowledge required to pass federal exams.

ARCHERY

The William Tells at our high school restricted themselves to bulls-eye targets this year. Apples will come later when our archers have become more proficient. The students under the strict supervision and safe conditions found this unusual sport a very enjoyable hobby.

Kneeling: Al Piper, Bob McNutt, Mike Seely, Donald Hekkala, Chris Harding, Tony Randazzo.
